

© H Wilmore, 16 December 2012

Community Alliance SA Inc was founded in 2011 and publicly launched at St Clair Reserve, Woodville, in November 2011. The Alliance speaks out on behalf of South Australian communities negatively impacted by badly designed and planned developments.

Community Alliance
South Australia
Engaging for Reform

South Australian communities have been aware of the advantages and need for good planning ever since the City of Adelaide was laid out by William Light in 1837. Light's Plan is widely recognised as a masterpiece of urban planning, and in the Plan's 175th anniversary year, members of Community Alliance SA's executive celebrated Light's far-sighted people-focussed planning with a visit to Light's Vision. This highly visited site overlooks the State Government multi-million-dollar stadium conversion of Adelaide Oval.

© K Henderson, 2011

© H Wilmore, 2007

The Alliance's 'Developing Money Pits' Media statement released today, 16 December 2012, reaffirms the organisation's dedication to 'putting the people back into planning' in the lead up to the 100th anniversary of Australia's first town-planning conference, and thereafter.

© Community Alliance SA Inc, 2011

Top left: Members of Community Alliance SA Inc executive at Light's Vision, Montefiore Hill, North Adelaide, South Australia. Photo taken by H Wilmore, 16 December 2012. Top centre: View of former Adelaide Oval from Light's Vision, 16 December 2012, ©K Henderson, 2012.

Top right: Community Alliance SA Inc logo. Above centre, left: Plaque commemorating Australia's first Town-planning conference, Adelaide South Australia, 1917, affixed to the northern face of Colonel William Light's statue plinth, Light's Vision, Montefiore Hill, North Adelaide, South Australia. Photo taken by K Henderson, 2011. Above centre, right: Part of Gawler East rezoned for development (similar to rezonings at rural and former farmlands at Buckland Park and Mt Barker). Photo taken by H Wilmore, 2007. Above: Representatives of founding member groups at the public launch of Community Alliance SA Inc, St Clair Reserve, Woodville Road, Woodville, South Australia, 2011.